Some text

The page has a blue header bar with standard browser controls. The main content is divided into two columns by a vertical blue border. The left column contains six identical items, each consisting of a square with a large 'X' and a wavy black line. The right column contains several wavy black lines of varying lengths, with some text ('Some text') above them. A large empty rectangular box is positioned below the wavy lines. At the bottom of this box is a control bar with a play button, a progress bar, and volume control icons.
